

City of Tomah Water Utility

2009 Water Quality Report

The 2009 Consumer Confidence Report will not be mailed to individual residences, but will be printed in the local newspaper. Copies of the report may be picked up at the Public Works & Utilities Office, 819 Superior Avenue, Tomah, WI 54660.

This report describes Tomah's drinking water sources and quality, and programs that protect the high quality of our water supply. This publication conforms to a new federal regulation requiring water utilities to provide this information annually. We supported the passage of this regulation and believe the information provides a valuable service to our consumers.

In this report we attempt to balance your right to know against the sheer volume of information that we could provide. If some of this information appears complex, it's because drinking water is a complex business. For more information, please call us at 374-7431.

Safe drinking water is an essential resource for our citizens. The bottom line is this: our water is safe to drink.

The information in this report is also submitted formally and routinely to the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources, the Wisconsin Division of Health as well as to the United States Environmental protection Agency. Both agencies monitor our water compliance with the many regulatory standards and testing protocols required to assure safe drinking water.

This is important information. Please take a few minutes to read the following report. Our office will be happy to help you with any questions you may have.

Sincerely,

Ken Patterson
Director of Public Works & Utilities
